Help me choose!

Hi, everyone! The school science fair is next month and I can't decide on my project. If I build a solar oven, I will need a lot of cardboard and aluminum foil. If it's sunny on the day of the fair, it will work perfectly.

But if I had more money, I would build a small robot. Robots are amazing!

My friend Laís says: "If I were you, I would choose the solar oven. It's cheaper and more creative." What would you do if you were in my place? (Davi, 14)
